To reach defined strategic goals, we take actions such as formulating additional decision support tools, establishing extensive criteria for success, and providing logically analyzed solutions to aid in developing product vision. Evaluate the technical, functional, and non-functional requirements against the set business goals undertake UX research, and design the necessary prototypes. Ensure that appropriate procedures for the management of the quality of the project are in place and advocate for the interests of users and other stakeholders on the project. Resource and project management are tightly coupled with your communications. Have proven experience in managing projects, particularly in these areas:

- Initiating and carrying out a project feasibility study.
- Determining the limits of the project and the groups to be involved.
- Planning and establishing strategic milestones and conducting checkpoints.
- Managing changes and optimization of resources.
- Financial budget management and control of expenses.
- Overseeing the documentation of the project and assessing related risks.

Monitoring performance, project closure, and performance. Leverage management and evaluation methods to transform vision into reality through constructive negotiations, effective decision-making, and strength in risk management, while excelling in administrative capacities and Business Relationship Management.
